Hot, hotter, hottest, were the words from the weatherman as B.C. forests were closed due to explosive fire conditions (see details, Page 17.)

Dag Calls UN Session On Tunisia

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today called a special session of the UN General Assembly to meet Aug. 21 on the French-Tunisian dispute.

Hammarskjold acted after a majority of the 99 UN members had approved an Afro-Asian request for the extraordinary session.

Uruguay became the 50th member to signify approval of the session.

The delay in convening the session is required under rules of procedure which state that delegations must be notified at least 10 days in advance of special sessions.

The sole item of business before the assembly will be "the grave situation in Tunisia . . . since July 19, 1961"—the date the French-Tunisian conflict began.

The coalition that sought the session was led by members of the Afro-Asian group and the Soviet bloc. They are supporting Tunisia's demand that the French withdraw from territory occupied around Bizerte naval base in the fighting last month and that France withdraw her troops from Bizerte and a piece of the Sahara claimed by Tunisia.

PARIS (Reuters) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said today that France has no intention of participating in the United Nations General Assembly debate on Bizerte.

JFK Wants Showdown On Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called today for a showdown conference with Russia on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests. A new note from Moscow indicated that this last-ditch bid for agreement is doomed in advance.

Kennedy announced at a press conference that he is sending Arthur Dean back to Geneva Aug. 24 for a "decisive meeting" of the U.S.-British-Soviet nuclear test ban negotiators.

"We'll be able to tell almost immediately," he said, whether Russia has made any change in its "troika" proposal for a three-man board of directors to run any inspection system.

But a new note from Moscow reassured Russia's position on precisely this issue.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the note, dispatched by the Soviet government Wednesday, indicated no change whatever in the Russian position on nuclear weapons test negotiations.

White said the note, which was sent to the Soviet government, was a "friendly" note.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

LONDON — Dr. Rachel Pinney, 51, wouldn't speak a word to her patients.

When they called Wednesday to catalogue their complaints she just showed them a printed card.

On one side it said:

"Silence unto peace."

And on the other it explained the deadly hush in the surgery: The family doctor had vowed she would not speak again on any Wednesday until Britain renounces nuclear weapons.

She will break this pledge only in an emergency and to treat children.

Why start Wednesday?

She wrote:

"Sixteenth anniversary of dropping of Nagasaki atom bomb."

SOUTHAMPTON — The Cunard Steamship Company has installed slot machines on the 81,000-ton liner Queen Mary "as an experiment," it said Wednesday.

"They have been installed to amuse the passengers, and see how they appeal to them," a spokesman said.

First reports indicated no undue rush to use the machines, which take both U.S. and English money.

HOUSTON — "This baby came in with a bang!"

That was Edward Basta's description of the birth of a son Wednesday during a vicious thunderstorm that set the Basta's home on fire and sent Mrs. Basta to a maternity ward.

A neighbor who saw "two balls of fire roll down the roof of the Basta home" rushed Mrs. Basta to a hospital. En route the car stalled five times in a dousing rain.

Meanwhile Basta, a chemist, rushed home to find his house on fire. Learning that his wife had gone to hospital, Basta left the fire-fighting chores to firemen and hurried after her. He arrived just in time to welcome his new son, Ralph Edward.

OIL RIGHTS

This would mean, Mr. Mulcahy said, that oil companies wishing to drill would have to apply to have the lands included in a Crown reserve sale where they would be put on public auction.

This procedure has already been followed by Richfield Oil Corp. which is doing exploratory drilling in Heceta Strait off the Queen Charlottes. Richfield, it is understood, also took the precaution of getting a federal permit for its work.

SOUND POSITION
Mr. Mulcahy said: "We feel our position is sound and that the acreage involved is provincial Crown land which the province owned when it entered Confederation in 1858, if oil companies wish to apply for so-called titles to the land from Ottawa that's all right with us. But it doesn't change the ownership."

He pointed out that the situation is entirely different from that in the Northwest Territories where the federal government does own the Crown lands.

B.C.'s position is also different from that of the prairie provinces where ownership of Crown lands was vested in the federal government and was conferred on the provinces when they entered Confederation.

ISSUE IN DOUBT
The attorney-general's department has been studying the ownership question since federal legislation placing the issue in doubt was passed about two years ago.

Ostensibly the federal legislation was designed to cover oil, gas and mineral exploration lying offshore in the Arctic regions and in Hudson's Bay.

However, it soon became evident that the legislation could be interpreted to include offshore lands on both the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts. The Maritime provinces, it is understood, are also vitally concerned and are preparing to resist any federal encroachment on Atlantic offshore land.

The legal opinion given to the B.C. government by the attorney-general's department bases the provincial claim to offshore land and mineral

Premier 'Sells'
B.C. in South

SAN FRANCISCO (CP) — Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Wednesday British Columbia offers California's industries a vast new source of hydro power and an expanding market for consumer goods.

"We can offer power to help fire the spectacular industrial growth of California," the premier told guests at the opening of B.C.'s new trade and travel information office here. "We also offer new consumer markets as fields of expansion for many of your manufacturing enterprises."

"In turn, California offers the fastest-growing markets in North America for the sale of B.C. products," the premier said. "Your state also has many industries which might well be able to utilize the capacities of related B.C. industries for the manufacture of component parts."

Mr. Bennett said his government made the privately-owned B.C. Electric Company a crown corporation to help industries using the power get lower rates and compete more effectively.

He added the takeover had been too recent, however, to say when and if power rates would be reduced.

Later in his address Mr. Bennett said he wanted United States payments on downstream benefits firmly spelled out, before Canada ratified the international treaty on Columbia River development.

NEW YORK YOUTH GANG
STONES RIVER RESCUER

NEW YORK (AP) — A policeman was stoned by a band of teenagers Wednesday night, while trying to bring the body of a boy up from the East River, then was robbed by the same boys when he dived in to rescue a man attempting suicide.

All the young thieves, described as about 14 or 15 years old, escaped.

The drowned boy, Samuel Smell, 14, had been swimming with a brother under the Brooklyn Bridge.

After he disappeared, three policemen in two boats began to grapple for his body. As they did so, six boys on the pier began throwing rocks at them.

One patrolman, Stanley Butch, brought his launch into the pier and started to chase the teen-agers. But just then a man walked past him and plunged into the river.

Butch stripped off his hat, shoes and watch, and left them on the pier with a money clip containing $5. Then he jumped in after the man.

The other two policemen came to his aid, and they managed to pull Earl Lechenmier, 58, a 250-pound accountant, out of the river. But while they were doing so, the same gang of boys returned to the pier; gathered up Butch's belongings, and fled again.

panied by seven members of the provincial cabinet and an escort of RCMP in full dress. More than 250 B.C. and California government and industry leaders were guests at the ceremony.

Governor Edmund G. Brown of California said the office would encourage increasing interchange of visitors between California and B.C.

Maximum Space Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today the United States is putting maximum effort into space developments in an effort to catch up with the Russians, who, he said, are "many months ahead of us."

Kennedy said in response to a reporter's question at his press conference that he is satisfied the Russians have put two men into orbit. The reporter had said there is skepticism on the part of some scientists.

Another reporter asked if Kennedy has given thought to establishing a project similar to the Manhattan project which developed the atomic bomb in an effort to speed up space accomplishments.

Kennedy replied that a maximum effort already is going into space developments. He said he has asked Congress for all the money that could be spent without diminishing returns both financially and in terms of the use of personnel.

Kennedy said the United States cannot permit any nation hostile to the U.S. to dominate space.

He said, however, that he hopes some progress can be made within the United Nations toward guaranteeing the peaceful use of space. He said this will be a major issue in the UN session this fall.

PINCH HIT ROLE FOR JOHNSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy disclosed today he has made an agreement with Vice-President Lyndon Johnson for operation of the presidency should Kennedy become incapacitated.

Kennedy told his press conference that he had made the same kind of agreement with Johnson that former president Dwight Eisenhower set up with former vice-president Richard Nixon.

Eisenhower and Nixon agreed that if the president became unable to continue his duties the vice-president should take over as acting president. The president then would decide when he was able to resume the duties of office.

Three Shifts

For approximately four more weeks the job of clearing and repairing the tunnel will go on three shifts a day. At every possible weak point massive concrete arches are being poured or huge sections of gunite-covered reinforcing wire being applied.

The tunnel took seven years of punishment from incredible hydraulic pressure before it was opened and the engineers say it will be good for twice that period at least and probably much longer before it has to be opened again.

When the day in early September comes to put the tunnel back into operation, the vertical lift gates at the Lake Tahsta end will be slowly opened and water from the 170 billion cubic foot reservoir will pour in.

It will surge down the 25-foot diameter tunnel, drop down the twin penstocks and the seven giant turbines will start to produce 1,050,000 h.p.

Then the job of plugging the dome will be well on its way to completion. From this point on the task resolves into a relatively straightforward "mucking" operation, complicated only by the limited working space for men and machines in the tunnel.

Swept Downstream

From the rockfall the group returned to the open air and back 2,600 feet down the mountain to the power station and then up again 2,600 feet in a cable car to the point where the tunnel joins the penstocks.

Here a crew was working to clear some 6,000 cubic yards of rock which had been swept downstream as far as three miles from the main fall.

Since the tunnel was completed seven years ago as one of the engineering marvels of the modern world the only information on what has been going on inside has come from gauging the flow of the water.

As a member of the inspecting party I rode five miles into the Stygian blackness of the tunnel under Mount Dubose from the mid-point Horetzky adit opening. We went right to the intake point where 90 feet above us lay the surface of Tahsta Lake, source of the water which provides the power for Kitimat.

Where we stood steel lift gates held back the millions of gallons of water except for small hissing jets which under the incredible pressure of the 90-foot column of water had forced its way past the gate seal.

Floodlights Glow

At intervals down this five-mile journey the garish glow of propane floodlights showed where busy work crews were doing repair jobs, cleaning up minor rockfalls and sealing any potential weak spots which an inch-by-inch, week-long study of the tunnel by the engineering and geological experts had revealed.

The Fair Price

MR. J. V. CLYNE, FORMERLY a judge of the British Columbia Supreme Court, was appointed by the provincial government as a royal commissioner to devise a fair method of expropriating private property. After some difficulties in acquiring land for the Deas Island tunnel, the government wished to make sure that in future property needed for public use would be acquired on terms equitable to the owner and the state.

But just as Mr. Clyne began his hearings on this complex problem, the government totally disregarded him and took over the B.C. Electric at an arbitrary price fixed by itself.

It is said that the price was fair and equitable. Perhaps it was, but it ignored the first principle of just expropriation—the principle that, in case of dispute, the value of any expropriated property shall be fixed by a neutral authority.

This principle already is established in our laws. Under them the government could have taken over the B.C. Electric while an independent tribunal decided what that huge property was actually worth. This method is often used by the government and compulsorily by its agent, the Power Commission, and an aggrieved party may appeal his case to the courts.

Instead, the government bypasses all the existing machinery and pays for B.C. Electric shares what the stock market said they were worth on a certain day. Such a price, of course, does not necessarily represent the true value of a property. It may be too high or too low in relation to the real worth of any company. Sometimes, in a bull market, a stock may be greatly over-priced on the market. In a bear market it may be greatly under-priced.

The owners of B.C. Electric common stock were paid a substantial price, as judged by the market value of their shares in some former periods. Some of them may think it was a fair price; others think it is too low, but they are not the only party to the transaction. What about the other party, the people of B.C. who bought the shares? Was the price fair to them? We shall never know because the shares were not independently valued, were valued only by the vagaries of the stock market.

The danger and inequity of such an arbitrary valuation is not theoretical but was proved in this same transaction. The government decided to pay the holders of preferred shares according to their current market value which actually represented a serious loss to these investors because it deprived them of income tax advantages. While the government took no account of this damage, a proper arbitration would certainly have taken account of it.

On second thoughts, the government presumably will compensate the owners in one way or another but in doing so it will only confirm the inequity of its whole method of expropriation.

Much more serious, however, than the fairness or unfairness of the price paid for all the B.C. Electric stock is the precedent established by this deal. The government has laid down the principle that at any time, in any case, and for any property, it can pay precisely what it pleases and the private owner will have no right of appeal. He must take whatever the government decides. He has no protection from the state.

Yet this same government has asked Mr. Clyne to devise laws which will make sure that in all expropriations both the state and the private owner shall be fully protected from injustice and arbitrary action. The excellent principle submitted to Mr. Clyne for implementation is violated by the government before he can even finish his hearings.

As usual this widely-experienced royal commissioner doubtless will bring in a sound report designed to safeguard all interests, public and private, but the government has shown that it will not be bound by any principles that he may lay down. If it can act arbitrarily on the B.C. Electric it can act arbitrarily and fix its own price in any transaction, large or small.

Without an independent valuation of an expropriated property, a valuation determining the property's real worth regardless of temporary stock market fluctuations—the private owner and the taxpayers can never be sure whether the price is fair or not.

Cheers and Warnings

IT IS A PITY THAT SO GENUINE a scientific achievement as Major Titov's multiple circuit of the globe in a space vehicle should be tied in with jingoistic mutterings and warnings to foreign "aggressors."

Hardly any common man in the world would reserve his admiration and his congratulations on this history-making flight. Titov, and his one-lap predecessor, Gagarin, have achieved what man has never done before. As representatives of the human race they are given credit for their feats. As Russians, too, they will be given credit for a tremendous national victory.

On the occasion of his triumphant return to Moscow, then, it is unfortunate that Major Titov saw fit—or was instructed—to warn "enemies of peace" against unleashing "another war" because the Soviet Union has the strength to "crush the aggressor." Did he need to remind his audience, at that precise moment of rejoicing, that Russia has "all the means necessary to rebuff an imperialist attack?"

The problem lies, not so much in the airman's words, as in the government policy and outlook that finds it necessary to stress this attitude.

Does Mr. Khrushchev honestly believe that the United States can hardly wait to precipitate a war? Surely, in view of all the implications of the nuclear age he cannot. Then why this propaganda campaign, introduced even into an event which the West itself was cheering, to persuade the Soviet people that they are in imminent danger?

Is there unrest in the Soviet Union which must be dissipated by talk of outside dangers? Is the government about to enforce domestic measures, for one reason or another, which may not be popular and must be introduced as the effects of foreign threats to security? Is Mr. Khrushchev preparing the population for serious trouble over Berlin, and guiding Soviet thinking so that any approach to the brink of war will be automatically blamed on the foreign warmongers about whom they have repeatedly heard?

It is not yet clear what the reasons are. Even allowing for natural national exuberance over such a great event as a space flight, Mr. Khrushchev seems determined to be tough.

After all his recent talk of co-existence and peaceful competition, why?

Trying Again on Douglas

MOST PEOPLE CONCERNED with the beautification of Victoria's new front door—the Douglas Street entrance to the city from the airport and the government ferries—will hope that resubmission of the Capital Improvement District Commission's plan to Saanich will produce constructive results.

Up to this point the improvement scheme, on which $125,000 would be spent by the government, has been stalled by merchants' objections to a parking ban before their premises.

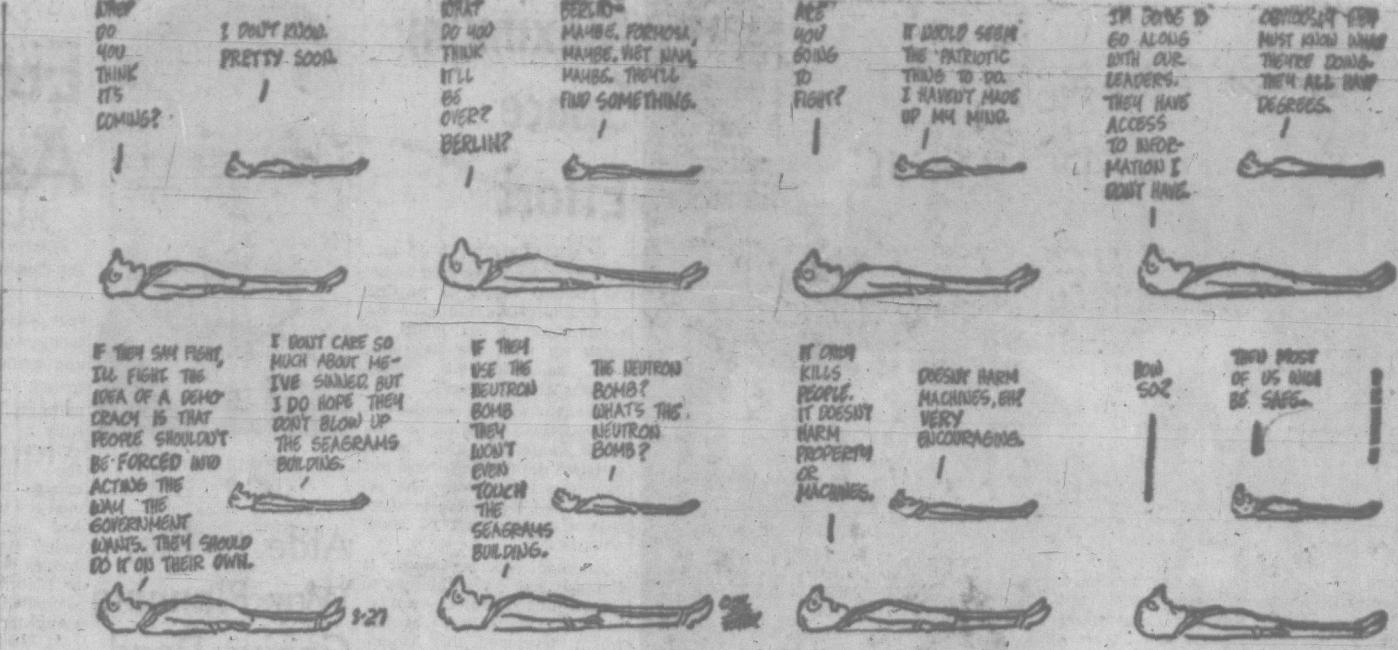

Saanich council, perhaps even more sensitive to merchant feeling that the city itself, seems unwilling to persuade the merchants to change their views.

Yet surely this is a short-sighted attitude. Eventually, due to traffic requirements alone, the section of Douglas Street under consideration will be subject to severe parking restriction or ultimate elimination of curb parking. Several businesses now operating on the stretch have their own accommodation for customers who come in cars. Others are within short distances of cross-streets on which parking is permitted.

Why, under these circumstances, hold up a development of value not only to the whole community but promising specific benefits to the merchants themselves? Do they believe that they will be injured by a more attractive, boulevarded street?

What seems to be needed is a little intelligent leadership—and it might well come from city and Saanich councils—to convince the recalcitrant merchants that co-operation could easily bring them better returns than adamant opposition to a project which ultimately will prevail.

LOOSE ENDS

Based on Sacred Sentiment and High Tariff Rates

THE thoughts of the British government, as it faces another economic crisis, are proclaimed in Parliament and cabled around the world. But how about the thoughts of the ordinary British citizen? What is he thinking as he is asked to cut down his living standard, tighten his belt, join Europe and save the Commonwealth all at the same time?

Any Canadian who knows Britain can picture that man, with his evening tea and newspaper, puzzling over the latest news, especially the news from Canada. The government at Ottawa, he has always been led to believe, is passionately devoted to Britain, is dedicated to the Commonwealth, is the true and sole protector of British institutions and ideals against a pro-American opposition which would destroy them. This, of course, is well known. hadn't Mr. Dieffenbaker promised to increase imports from Britain and help the dear old land?

Hutchison

THE citizen in the British country cottage or London flat can easily understand the announcements of his own government. It is telling him to accept the latest dose of austerity, but he is used to that. He has heard it all before from Stafford Cripps and every succeeding Chancellor of the Exchequer at regular intervals. The old routine.

So there's another spot of trouble and one must pay more taxes, buy a little less and work harder. All right, that's familiar enough and no doubt a chap must face up to it as usual, but must he face up to it alone?

In Canada, for instance, the government is promising to raise the people's living standard and make things easier for everybody by keeping out British goods and selling more to Britain.

Well, then, what is one to make of this item in the paper reporting more intended Canadian restrictions on British imports? What are these angry threats of retaliation against Britain if it joins the Common Market? And why this harsh, hectoring tone, mixed with protests of friendship and flavored with a sweet, glutinous morality? It is all very puzzling.

THE citizen in the British country cottage or London flat can easily understand the announcements of his own government. It is telling him to accept the latest dose of austerity, but he is used to that. He has heard it all before from Stafford Cripps and every succeeding Chancellor of the Exchequer at regular intervals. The old routine.

So there's another spot of trouble and one must pay more taxes, buy a little less and work harder. All right, that's familiar enough and no doubt a chap must face up to it as usual, but must he face up to it alone?

In Canada, for instance, the government is promising to raise the people's living standard and make things easier for everybody by keeping out British goods and selling more to Britain.

Perhaps they can do that in a rich country like Canada, but don't all those Commonwealth peoples across the sea rather overestimate Britain's resources, and maybe its patience, too?

There's India, demanding not only British markets but British capital, yet insisting that Britain must not create them by trading with Europe.

There's that fellow from Ghana demanding the same benefits but cuddling up to old K. in Moscow and denouncing British colonialism in Budapest.

There's Menzies in Australia, apparently more British than the Queen. And there's Diefenbaker determined to preserve the Commonwealth even if it means breaking Britain.

THESE men will let nothing, not even the British government, stand in the way of the Commonwealth's solidarity, as based on sacred sentiment and high tariff rates.

In the budgets of those patriotic overseas partners the last British taxpayer is expendable. Everybody must be properous except the people of Britain who are chosen for the supreme honor of carrying the load and sweating it out—provided that they don't inconvenience anyone else by doing business with their rich next-door-neighbors in Europe and tarnishing their principles with foreign money needed to pay the bill. No, they must remain poor while others grow rich just for the glory of the thing.

IT'S ALL very puzzling in the little British parlour at tea time when the price of tea has just gone up again.

The British citizen, a practical man, can understand a sudden upsurge of self-interest in a country like Canada, a decision by its government to let Britain stew in her own juice, but why must it be announced with fervent vows of affection? Why must every hostile act be represented as a particular favor?

When they decide to damage Britain why must those chaps in Ottawa always put on the old school tie and wrap the knife in the Union Jack? And after all, are they the only ones who know how to rescue the Commonwealth from its mother? That does seem a bit thick, you know.

By JOHN BOSHER

THE DEPARTMENT STORE CAMPUS

Almost as Though It Existed to Produce at a Profit

The author of this series, Dr. John Bosher, is a former Victoria College student, now on the faculty of UBC and a visiting professor at Victoria's summer school. The views expressed are his own, and are presented as a stimulus to discussion on the future of Victoria's university.

MANY people, with their eyes fixed on the American-type suburban campus, believe that Victoria needs a giant university at Gordon Head in order to have a football stadium, a swimming pool, and boulevards among flower beds for Sunday afternoon drives. But is it to be a community centre? And if so, why not add a drive-in movie theatre, a civic auditorium, a cemetery and a CPR hotel?

Dr. Bosher Those who argue in favor of a big campus are often thinking only in terms of capital, management, land, labor and profits. To them a university is nothing more than a business enterprise. And if they get their way that is the kind of university Victoria will have.

For the American-type consolidated campus is almost invariably organized like a commercial firm, with a board of governors at the top like a board of directors; a broad-based senate representing all the graduates as though they were shareholders; a president like a general manager assisted by an administrative staff and a number of deans and department heads; a multitude of professors hired, fired and supervised like employees; and hordes of students who play a role much like that of customers in a department store.

Chain of Command

The whole organization tends to form a pyramid hierarchical structure like a government department or a big company with a chain of command downward and a chain of responsibility upward. It is almost as though it existed to implement a policy or to produce some commodity at a profit.

A gap grows between the administration and the faculty, and an even wider gap between the faculty and the students. The campus seems to be filled with more or less ambitious promoters, planners, conveners, directors and special assistants.

And sometimes the students, teachers, scientists and scholars—the only people who matter in any kind of school—are hurried, hither-and-thither in a whirl of meetings, committees, conferences, projects, formalities and timetables which prevent them from doing the only things worth doing in a university—reading, writing, researching, thinking and discussing—and teaching!

People at large are made to feel that as a matter of civil pride they must have an even bigger and better university. And those who know how hollow it all is often adopt the cynical view that somehow all this is necessary "universities are big business nowadays". Because they are financed mainly by a variable allotment in a government budget, they are dependent upon the favor of the government and ultimately of the general public.

They have therefore come to feel that they must make efforts to promote good public relations.

Now it is generally taken for granted that a large campus with many buildings and lawns, a large population of students, an active extension department, and a hustling team of administrative personnel can make a much greater impression.

More Important

It inevitably seems to be playing a much more important role in the life of the community than a few small federated colleges. It tends to generate a feeling of buoyancy and excitement among its members, who are swept along in what they believe to be "the trend of the times".

Some heads of departments set themselves as heads of bigger departments, deans as deans of larger faculties, and presidents as heads of bigger institutions.

People at large are made to feel that as a matter of civil pride they must have an even bigger and better university. And those who know how hollow it all is often adopt the cynical view that somehow all this is necessary "universities are big business nowadays". Because they are financed mainly by a variable allotment in a government budget, they are dependent upon the favor of the government and ultimately of the general public.

Surely no government would really be jeopardizing its future if it allowed Victoria College to limit its enrolment and built other and perhaps different colleges at Gordon Head.

Surely the indignation of some college authorities at the thought of a rival though federated institution could be overcome. For it seems clear that a great deal of money would be saved, and Victoria would have a much better university.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Grateful

We wish to express our thanks and gratitude to those who took part in the search of our late beloved husband and dear father. Most grateful thanks to Lt. Cdr. Ben Ackerman of Naden, and those who took part under his command, Saanich police officers, Saanich Fire Dept., Colwood Volunteer Fire Dept., Langford Volunteer Fire Dept., and all who helped.

nity and pays taxes.

5. Dividends, wages. The income tax helps our province and Dominion.

What has Bennett to offer?

He never claims the province needs only 180 million dollars to take over a $700 million investment.

I would like cash for my shares, for under the new ownership imposed on us, rates will go up, employees will increase, and instead of men who know their jobs, we will have friends of Bennett, as shown in past transactions.

The only reason Bennett seized the B.C. Electric is "spite" at the Dominion government. The same reason applies to the Columbia River project. He should be removed from his job as unreliable and incapable.

Why does Bennett give so much to Wenner-Gren? The man is power mad.

Briefly Expressed

Please grant me space in which to briefly express the gratitude of all the aged people of British Columbia to the 52 members of our Legislature who so magnanimously continue to recognize our eligibility (when we succeed in passing the means test) to that bounteous $24 we are granted monthly.

On Aug. 2 we more fully recognized our deep obligation to our 52 generous representatives who had to accept and be satisfied with $365 each for almost a full week attendance in session of such grinding labor as putting into

Gerald Waring ... REPORTING

OTTAWA—It wouldn't have been hard last week to get caught up in the infectious enthusiasm of the New Democrats. Reporters had to guard against it, while recognizing that being overly cynical was just as bad for their job.

With the excitement and hullabaloo over, it's easier now to try to foresee what short term effect the convention's tremendous output of physical and mental energy is likely to have on the fortunes of the Grits and Tories.

There's no doubt that the Liberals have cause for serious concern. Their own leftward move in advance of the formation of the new party proves they realize it. And Prime Minister Diefenbaker's failure to carry out his threat to call an election when the Senate amended his "class or kind" tariff bill indicates the PM wants to give the New Democrats time to split the anti-Conservative vote.

But the PM may be riding for a fall. Not that the NDP won't drag votes from the Grits, but that it may drag more from the Tories than the government can comfortably spare after the defection to the Grits, as indicated by polls of a large number of those who voted Tory in 1958.

How often have you heard words like these: "I voted for Diefenbaker last time, but I won't vote for him again?" I've heard them often; I dare say you have too.

These are the people who put the Conservatives in power in 1957 and 1958. They weren't Conservatives then. They were the floating voters, or dissatisfied Liberals, or frustrated CCFers and Social Crediters.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

C'est Bean Soup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although very few of our senators suffer from malnutrition, I can't blame them for wanting to improve their diet.

Dining in the Senate restaurant is not exactly what you might call an adventure in good eating. It's adventurous, all right, but in a different sort of way.

I mean, anyone who eats there can readily understand why the place was never recommended by Duncan Hines. It probably wouldn't even be recommended by James R. Duncan, who is a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

The food served in the restaurant can best be described by a phrase once used by Ralph McGill, the well-known Georgia journalist, in an article he wrote on southern cooking.

McGill opined that the cuisine put out by certain roadside diners in Dixie tasted like "a fricassee of old campaign speeches."

Senate food has that quality, too, at times.

At other times, it tastes like the cooks had barbecued the congressional record.

The odd thing about this is that the senators endured this fare for years with only a minimum amount of carping. It was only after President Kennedy hired that French chef last spring that they began to get fed up.

Ever alert to maintain equality with the executive branch, the Senate this week officially installed in its capitol kitchen a Frenchman of its own. Only time will tell the White House one better.

By DICK WEST

The Senate's Frenchman is not merely a chef; he is a full-blown maître d'hôtel, with credentials from such posh places as the Waldorf-Astoria in New York and the Sheraton-Park in Washington.

When I heard about the hiring of the maître d', whose name is Robert E. Sonntag, I hastened over to the Senate dining room to have a chat with him. I wanted to find out what was in store for our senatorial gastronomes.

Sonntag made it clear right at the outset that he had no intention of stuffing the lawmakers with truffles and other such exotic dishes. The restaurant will continue to feature American-style cuisine, whatever that is.

But if an individual senator demands pheasant under glass, Sonntag will endeavor to oblige, even if he has to don an apron and prepare the dish himself.

A handsome, ruddy-faced fellow who still retains a Gallic accent, Sonntag took me on what I can't resist calling a "cook's tour" of the kitchen, pointing out potential improvements along the way.

He said his main aim will be to add variety to the menu and give a Continental touch to the old standbys. He even has hopes of making the "famous Senate bean soup" more palatable.

I fear, however, that it will take an act of Congress to perform the latter feat. The only way to improve that bean soup is to repeal the Senate rule requiring that it be served every day.

HOME GARDEN

Tropicals Sometimes Bloom Here

There are many of the tropical annuals which are too seldom seen here. But there are reasons.

First, we have not a naturally tropical climate, and second, few of us are willing to go to a lot of extra trouble to raise tropical annuals when so many others make wonderful showings with less effort.

However, there are amateur gardeners who devote all their spare time to their hobby, and they can produce unusual displays of color in their gardens when we have our usual sunny, dry summers.

Two of these annuals are celosia, known as Cockscomb, or Prince's-Feather, according to which kind is grown; and amaranthus (Love-Lies-Bleeding, or the red Chenille-plant). Both are extremely colorful, the celosia being either gleaming gold or velvety red, and the amaranthus is deep red.

The way to succeed with these two tropical annuals in this area of cool springs is to sow the seed in a heated greenhouse during early March. After germination, a minimum temperature of 60 degrees F. is maintained at Estevan 50 and 88.

Huge Radioscope For Penticton

OTTAWA (CP) — A giant international Geophysical Year fence-like radio telescope is to be built near the Dominion Observatory to enable Canadian scientists to conduct special research during the International Year of the Quiet Sun.

The huge listening post, designed to pick up faint radio waves given off by objects beyond the sun in outer space, will be built near the federal radio-astronomy station at Penticton, B.C., if the project receives government approval.

The proposed telescope, costing about $300,000, will consist of a sprawling antenna put together like a fence, and equipment to record space noises. The fence-like antenna will be three-quarters of a mile in length.

COVERS 18 MONTHS

The International Year of the Quiet Sun will cover an 18-month period in 1964-65 and will be a follow-up to the International Year of the Quiet Sun.

Blow-Torch Fire Guts Apartment in Colwood

Fire believed started from a blow torch gutted a two-bedroom apartment and ruined the possessions of a young Colwood family Wednesday noon.

Colwood volunteer firemen kept flames from spreading into adjoining apartments — one on either side — in the three-suite, single-floor Linshaw Court at 3103 Metchosin. Occupants were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Wheldon and their 2½-year-old daughter Christina, who had planned to move soon.

Mr. Wheldon was out of the city and Mrs. Wheldon and Christina were visiting when the fire started.

'WHAT A MESS'

Returning as firemen were mopping up debris, Mrs. Wheldon surveyed the blackened, water-soaked interior and a pile of damaged furnishings on the lawn in front.

"What a mess — everything we own," she said.

Their loss included bedclothes, kitchen utensils, TV set, chesterfield suite and all wearing apparel.

There was no insurance. Mrs. Wheldon said a man had been in to fix water pipes as she was going out, and that he had used a blowtorch.

She was on her way with Christina to visit a relative planning to take the children on a picnic outing; otherwise she would have been at home and able to spot the fire before damage was great.

ISLAND BRIEFS

NANAIMO — Mah Gay, 70, was burned about his head and back Tuesday when flames destroyed one of the few remaining buildings left after a disastrous Chinatown fire last year.

PORTE ALBERNI — Results of the district's first Grade 13 course started last fall have proved satisfactory, said district superintendent D. G. Chamberlain and high school principal William F. Ramsay.

ALBERNI — Nine-year-old Darlene Oberg was rescued from swift waters at Stamp Falls by Coleen Rogers, 15, a Girl Guide, who jumped in when the younger girl "kept going under" while swimming.

NORTH COWICHAN — Second sewer contract won by Farmer Construction Ltd., Victoria, in connection with Beverley Street area was awarded Wednesday. The bid of $44,811 is for building a disposal system for mains now being laid.

ALBERNI — A house fire spread to outbuildings and burned two acres of timber in a two-hour blaze fought by firemen and forestry crew a mile north of here Wednesday night.

It was felt by directors that the city was not pulling its fair weight in animal care and it will be asked to increase its aid.

Funds may also be sought from unorganized areas in the form of provincial grants for licensing services rendered by the SPCA.

Major increases were as follows: Red Cross $9,500 ($7,470); C.N.L.B. $4,000 ($3,600); Boy Scouts $2,600 ($2,070); John Howard Society $2,520 ($1,926); Mental Health Assn. $3,950 ($2,000).

The offer came from Sister Superior of Comox Hospital, who said her Toronto order would help the plan out if property owners cancel their earlier opposition.

"The function of hospitals in general has come to include the teaching of health and cooperation with public health departments," she said.

Village Chairman Ron Ellis said the donation would help bring down the cost to ratepayers, if the project is taken to the voters again and is approved.

There would be further write-off with winter works grant and other federal assistance, he said.

Public reaction will be tested at a meeting called for Aug. 16 in Corker Memorial Hall. The last sewer plebiscites rejected three years ago.

STOP SAN JOSE PONY ACES

Carnarvons Win Again!

WALLA WALLA, Wash.—Pass the aspirins, Ma, they're still at it.

Victoria's Carnarvon All-Stars, who have surprised not a few people by their performances along the Pony League playoff trail, caused untold concern among Californians here for the northwest regional tournament Wednesday.

The Victorians, a dark-horse team if there ever was one, reared up for yet another upset victory. They beat the highly-regarded San Jose, Calif., team, 8-4.

The win over the northern California champions stamped Victoria as the squad to beat in the four-team, double-loss elimination tournament.

In the second game, Honolulu stole seven bases and took advantage of six errors to defeat Blackfoot, Idaho, 7-0.

Victoria will meet Honolulu at 8:30 tonight.

Victoria's playoff record has been marked by upsets but this has to be rated the most satisfying of all. Once again, credit must go to Gord Strongman.

The ace Carnarvon pitcher won his seventh tournament game by scattering seven hits as his teammates gave him steady support in the field.

He was in trouble only once, when San Jose got uncomfortable close in the sixth as a walk was followed by a home run to make the score 6-4. But Strongman put on the clamp and held on.

As usual, he did his best at the plate, hitting twice in three trips including a seventh-inning homer that helped put the game on ice. He scored two runs and batted two in.

The B.C. team waited only as long as the second inning to start scoring.

Strongman walked and scored on an error. Gary Robertson singled, and took advantage of a pass ball to cross the plate. Randy Burygoine, aboard on a walk, also scored on an error. Dave Evans walked and was singled home by Jim Lear.

Victoria also scored in the third as Robertson walked and finally was singled home by Brian McKenzie. Burygoine finished the scoring in the seventh as he walked, stole second, and came home on a bunt.

Gopher or 'Go for'—Wakeham on the Way

Tiny Blonde Rocks Price At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Rita Lohnes, 23-year-old Lunenburg, N.S. secretary, will hold much of the attention today when she leads 16 survivors into the first of two 18-hole rounds of championship flight match play in the Canadian women's open golf championship.

The petite, blonde, six-time Nova Scotia amateur champion Wednesday rocked fans and competitors alike at Point Grey Golf and Country Club by scoring a one-up victory over Elizabeth Price of Farnham, England, 1959 British champion. The margin of victory was a sensational 75-yard chip shot for an eagle three on the 16th.

Miss Price had been virtually conceded a spot in Saturday's 36-hole final by experts in prechampionship grading. Miss Lohnes today meets Josephine Chapple of New Westminster, B.C., in the second round.

LEADING CONTENDERS

Leading contenders still in the hunt for the title included Colleen Smith, 30-year-old Vancouver accountant, medallist in Tuesday's qualifying round; defending champion Judy Darling, 24, Montreal; Janet MacWha, 26, Vancouver, current junior champion; and Mrs. Robert Lyle, Montreal, 1960 Canadian titleholder.

JOE JEROSKI, and Bert Tiehurst—bill members of B.C.'s Willingdon Cup-winning team along with Kidd.

Defending champion Keith Alexander of Calgary also survived the opening hurdles, but he was to face his stiffest test today in townsmen Doug Silverberg.

Ford, who plays out of clubs in both Victoria and Vancouver, also drew a tarter for his first match today in the person of Weslock.

Ford, downed Joe Olson of Edmonton, one up, and then stepped into the third round with a similar victory over John Kilburn, also of Edmonton.

Weslock vaulted onto the favorite's pedestal after a brilliant second-round comeback. Three down with four holes to play, the Ontario veteran fought back to tie it on the 18th and then dropped a 30-foot birdie putt to win on the 19th.

CAME FROM BEHIND

Weslock had to come from behind to defeat Hope. The 20-year-old Gorge Vale member was one down at the turn despite the fact he was one under par. Bill had eight pars and a birdie on the first nine, but Hope tossed in seven pars and two birdies for a one-up lead.

Wakeham moved ahead by winning 13, 14 and 15, but Hope snatched it to the wire when he birdied the 17th. The match was over when they halved the 18th.

Wakeham was even par for the round.

Wakeham, who ranked among the favorites after winning medalist honors in the qualifying round, had a close call in his match against Harper, winning one up after having a 4 and 3 victory taken away from him by a ruling after his drive dropped into a gopher hole on the 15th fairway.

CADDY FELT IT

Wakeham was three up on Harper at the 15th tee. His drive went into the rough and could not be found. Then Harper's caddy reached deep into a gopher hole and said he could find a ball with his finger tips, but could not pull it out.

Wakeham dropped another ball and played it out for a par four. Harper three-putted for a five. Then the players decided to get a ruling on the "gopher-hole shot" and officials said that since the ball could not be identified as Wakeham's, they could not allow him a free drop.

"I asked them to get a shovel and dig it out, but they didn't want to," the 20-year-old former Canadian junior champion said.

IT WAS BILL'S BALL

The New Yorker said that Mays' monthly salary this year has been shaved to $1,900 a month the rest of this year because of advance loans on his salary.

Vancouver Drops Back In PCL Chase

Tacoma Giants, continuing the drive for their first Pacific Coast Baseball League pennant, widened their lead to 6½ games Wednesday night, with help from the last place Salt Lake City Bees.

The Giants came from behind three times to edge Spokane Indians 9-8, while the Bees exploded for four runs in the ninth inning to clip the second-place Vancouver Mounties 5-3.

Salt Lake pitcher Bill Dailey homered in the third at Vancouver for the game's only run until the eighth when the Mounties tapped him for a pair of singles, a triple and a ground-out for their three runs. The Bees got their four in the top of the ninth off Claude Raymond, who relieved southpaw George Brunet. The Canadians threatened in the bottom of the inning but southpaw Sam McDowell came in to strike out the side.

In weather such as this, water's a nice thing to have and be around.

It also demands respect.

That's the theme the Greater Victoria and District Safety Council is taking in presenting an interesting water show here this weekend.

The two-hour long show sponsored jointly by the Safety Council and Shop-Easy Stores will be presented at the Crystal Garden Saturday evening and at Happy Land (Elk Lake) Sunday afternoon.

Vancouver's Pacific Swimming and Life-Saving Club's demonstration team, consisting of 20 to 25 members, will put on the show that features comic routines, ballet and, of course, safety.

Saturday's show gets under way at 7 p.m., while Sunday's program starts at 2 p.m. P.S. It's free.

Out of Action

CANADIAN CUTIE COMES HOME

Fame, Trouble for Blonde in Tokyo

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 19-year-old, green-eyed blonde left the intrigue of the east behind her Wednesday and stepped into Canadian anonymity.

Ottawa-born Lee Smith, who in three years became the sparkling darling of Japanese radio, television and movies, walked ashore from an ocean liner and said she was starting from scratch.

Her father, Staff Sergeant Frank S. Smith of the Canadian army, looks to the expected quiet with relief. So does Mrs. Smith.

Their gifted little girl has had her problems.

Lee made the front pages of Japanese newspapers just prior to the family's departure for Canada.

The reports suggested she had made a death pact with a 19-year-old Japanese youth, an acquaintance for some time.

The lad swallowed about 70 sleeping tablets after a farewell party — and eventually came out of a 17-hour coma.

Her father said the "death pact" report was preposterous.

Her first movie appearance also caused some con-

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other attractive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy Sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Patricia Davidson, age 12, of O'Neill, Neb., for her question:

Can there be plant life on Jupiter?

If you have a telescope, even a small one, you can get a clear look at giant Jupiter.

This, the biggest of the planets by far, is due to rise late in the evening. Wait until Scorpio, the Scorpion, is high in the sky. This is one of the easiest of the summer constellations to find. There are three bright stars in a row to mark the scorpion's claws and a great S-curve swooping down to the tail. Rising behind the Scorpion comes the constellation Sagittarius, the Archer. Its stars look like a teapot or a pair of saddlebags. The bright planet rising after Sagittarius is Saturn. The still brighter planet rising after Saturn is Jupiter, the Giant.

If the night is very clear, you can see dim bands of dark and light in parallel lines across the face of Jupiter. A powerful telescope shows these bands to be clouds of creamy tan and nearly gray. So Jupiter, like the earth, has an atmosphere. Astronomers tell us, however, that it is a very different atmosphere from ours. There is no oxygen, nor is there carbon dioxide which is so necessary to plant life.

The latest evidence suggests that Jupiter has an atmosphere mostly of hydrogen gas in which float foggy clouds of methane and ammonia, two gases which to us are poisonous. Methane, however, is the so-called marsh gas given off by decaying vegetation. The great planet is 11 times wider than the earth, yet it whirls around on its axis in about 10 hours. Its cloud bands heave and toss as though Jupiter suffered violent storms throughout its entire year, which is equal to almost 12 earth years.

Such a stormy planet, with no oxygen and no carbon dioxide, is not a likely place to support the lush green plant life which covers our earth.

But, you may think, there are warm, sheltered spots on Jupiter where plants could survive. This could not be, for the big planet is five times farther from the sun than we are and therefore gets but a fraction of the light and heat which falls upon the earth. The temperature of its clouds is estimated to be minus 130 centigrade degrees. The plant life we know on earth cannot survive at this temperature. It is even cold enough to destroy the simple, one-celled bacteria plants and their spores which are tough enough to survive through long periods of cold, drought and other hardships.

The surface of Jupiter is most likely a slushy mess of partly-frozen gases. Many experts think that a man would sink, maybe miles, down through the planet. At any rate, he would not live long.

Fame, Trouble for Blonde in Tokyo

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 19-year-old, green-eyed blonde left the intrigue of the east behind her Wednesday and stepped into Canadian anonymity.

Ottawa-born Lee Smith, who in three years became the sparkling darling of Japanese radio, television and movies, walked ashore from an ocean liner and said she was starting from scratch.

Their gifted little girl has had her problems.

Lee made the front pages of Japanese newspapers just prior to the family's departure for Canada.

The reports suggested she had made a death pact with a 19-year-old Japanese youth, an acquaintance for some time.

The lad swallowed about 70 sleeping tablets after a farewell party — and eventually came out of a 17-hour coma.

Her father said the "death pact" report was preposterous.

Her first movie appearance also caused some controverxy. Lee was to play a Dutch prisoner in a Japanese internment camp in Indonesia. Publicity blurb said Lee — whose vital statistics are 38-24-39 — was to be seen nude in the film.

She was — but it came out as a momentary view from behind, with Lee in the shower, and not the "nude bathing scene" that had been built beyond proportion.

Speaking Japanese fluently, Lee was scooped up early in her Japanese stay for work on radio and television. Blondes were rare in Japan.

She taught English by radio in a program called "English for the Millions." On television she was primarily a master of ceremonies on a Japanese-language variety show and occasionally a comedienne.

In two years she made 300 television appearances, 600 radio broadcasts and had speaking parts in many Japanese movies. She was often a magazine cover girl.

In returning here Lee left behind fame, fortune, social position, 500 fan letters, a month and a thousand broken Japanese hearts.

She will go later to Toronto to try and break into Canadian TV. One show, on the CBC program Open House, has already been booked.

(BB PLUS) "PEPE" (Odeon): Those who remember David Niven's enterprising valet in "Around the World in 80 Days" will be able to appreciate the warmth and good will that Mexico's great Cantinflas is able to inspire in any film in which his many facets are allowed full rein.

As Pepe, the 49-year-old actor simply radiates life and a certain gawky charm that cannot be denied into an uninspired plot that is little more than a running gag as written by Dorothy Kingsley and Claude Binyon, as based on a play by L. Bush-Fekete.

Even Cantinflas, clever as he is, cannot make one forget the growing numbness in one's posterior. The play is far too long, not only for comfort but for the bulk of the story.

Or perhaps "Pepe's" chief trouble is that it makes one remember another running gag, "Around the World in 80 Days." But Michael Todd's adaptation of the Jules Verne classic was worth the run. In addition to picking up a host of celebrity guest stars along the way—most of them a surprise by way of situation—the adventures of Phileas Fogg held a certain drama, a fair share of suspense and, perhaps most of all, an over-all air of having a high, good time.

On the other hand "Pepe" is based on nothing more solid than Cantinflas' love for his proud white stallion that has passed into the hands of on-the-side Hollywood director Dan Dailey who would use the nag to win the financial backing of horse-lover and buyer Edward G. Robinson.

Of course Cantinflas follows Dailey to Hollywood and thereby meets Shirley Jones, a frustrated actress, and more celebrities than are to be found in Hollywood's Who's Who. Unfortunately those on display are not seen to their best ad-

Famed Choir From Quebec Criticized

VANCOUVER (CP): Montreal's famed Les Disciples de Massenet choir, which arrived here Wednesday by train, rushed through a concert at dusk—a part of the Vancouver International Festival, and received a cool reception from one city critic.

Frances Campbell of the Province, speaking of the Christ Church Cathedral location for the concert, wrote: "The place and the occasion led us to expect a program of liturgical distinction and a performance of top calibre. Regrettably it was neither of these."

The choir began with "O Vos Omnes" of Victoria, and immediately established itself as a full-throated, strong-voiced unit, but with a shaky polyphonic sense and an inexact level of intonation.

Miss Campbell said the program contained "far too much of the well-known Protestant religious repertoire."

"It's not exactly that we would expect Les Disciples to give us an all-French program, but at least one significant French choral work would have been more welcome."

The singers will give three more performances on this coast before leaving Sunday night.

Quebec Liquor Scandal Draws Third Policeman Into Court

QUEBEC (CP) — A third former member of the defunct Quebec liquor police was charged Wednesday with fraud amid reports of more arrests and indications that the amount involved may be higher than the first estimate of $500,000.

Leopold Perreault, 49, former inspector in the Quebec district branch of the force, was charged on five counts. The offences allegedly were committed between Jan. 1, 1952, and Jan. 1, 1960.

The amount involved in the charge against him was more than $100,000, but Crown Prosecutor Gerard Levesque said the figure is included in the $500,000 total in charges against Rosario Lemire, 73, former chief of the liquor police for Quebec district.

HEARING SET

Lemire and his stepson, Dell-Ray Laforest, 30, were charged Tuesday. All three were ordered to preliminary hearing Aug. 15.

Perreault, who joined the liquor police in 1947 and became an inspector in 1954, was charged with participating in federal and provincial electoral campaigns; stealing and selling liquor; trafficking with smugglers, and having his home in suburban Ste. Foye built by men under him and paying them through falsified expense accounts.

WEST THREATENS NO NATION

Berlin Solution Possible If K Sincere, Says Dief

MELFORT, Sask. (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Wednesday night that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev meant what he said and "does not wish at all to infringe on the interests of the Western powers" then "a way can be found out of the situation which now confronts both East and West."

The prime minister was referring in a speech to a district Royal Canadian Legion convention to an address made Monday by Khrushchev in which the Soviet leader said "let's not create hysteria."

Mr. Diefenbaker made the speech after a 4½-day fishing vacation in Prince Albert National Park. He was scheduled to attend two functions in Prince Albert today, then begin a weekend tour of Saskatchewan's drought areas.

The prime minister said that while Premier Khrushchev claims the Western powers are threatening war over Berlin, "the facts are to the contrary."

He added: "The West has sought to change nothing in Berlin and threatens no nation."

"It is the Soviet Union that has threatened and is threatening unilateral action."

"It is very well for Mr. Khrushchev to say that he does not intend to blockade Berlin or cut off access to it."

"Even if this were true, and we have no guarantee that it is, it needs no great insight to understand that in the prevailing situations . . . in central Europe today, it is the country which seeks to change existing conditions to its own advantage that has reason to threaten the peace."

"Looking truth in the eye, it is, and Mr. Khrushchev should recognize that it is, folly to seek to obtain unilateral advantages or to inflict diplomatic deceits."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that it is "hard to see how signing a separate treaty with the East German regime would improve Soviet security."

Sightless Woman Saves Tot In Fire

VASHON, Wash. (AP) — Awakened by smoke, Mrs. Joan Shaffer, 35, Tuesday night made her way from her bed in her small house west of here to that of her daughter, five-year-old Laura, in another room.

Mrs. Shaffer wrapped Laura in a blanket, carried her outside, placed her on the ground, then returned to the house to summon firemen but the telephone was dead.

Again she made her way through the smoke to the outside, gathered Laura in her arms and carried her to a neighbor's home. Firemen who answered her telephone call put out the fire quickly and discovered Mrs. Shaffer is blind.

Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George Pearkes left Wednesday for Kelowna where Mr. Pearkes will be commodore of the 55th Kelowna International Regatta.

OVER 300 CHINESE FREEMASONS CELEBRATE 75TH ANNIVERSARY HERE

Orient, Occident Meet in Blaze of Pageantry, Costumery, Color

Victoria's Chinese Freemasons will play host to more than 300 Chinese from Atlantic to Pacific next week.

There will be banquets, concerts, lion dances, a full-length Chinese play, a costume parade outside the Chinese Freemasons' Hall at 617 Fisgard Street—and fireworks.

The celebrations will honor the 75th anniversary of Chinese Freemasonry in Victoria. The local order was established on Cormorant Street in 1886 with Lum Sun as its first president.

There are now some 300 Chinese Freemasons in Canada," said Jack Tang, Victoria secretary, "and we have invited them to join in our celebrations."

Visitors will be welcomed at the Chinese Freemasons' Hall next Friday (Aug. 18) when there will be an informal conference continuing on Saturday morning.

Saturday evening local Chinese will present an authentic Chinese play in costume entitled "The Gold Chrysanthemum." This will take place in the Curling Rink from 7 to 11 p.m.

"Chinese plays are never in a hurry," smiled Mr. Tang. "Some of them last for days and weeks, but this one will be kept down to four hours. It will be the first time for years that a full-length Chinese play has been seen in Victoria."

On Sunday the Chinese will hold a general convention from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. At 4 p.m. there will be a lion dance party for adults and children, and in the evening three banquets will be held at the Don Kee, Foo Hong and Bamboo Garden restaurants.

A costume parade in front of the Chinese Freemasons' Hall will follow at 8 p.m. and the celebrations will conclude with fireworks at 9:30 p.m.

In charge of arrangements are King Chow, Victoria president; Lee Gan, vice-president; Tom Mar, Chinese secretary, and Jack Tang, general secretary.

The first Chinese Masonic order in Canada was established at Barkerville more than 100 years ago by Wong Wing Quai—one of more than 200 Chinese who sought gold in B.C.

Its purpose, said Mr. Tang, was to foster better understanding among the Chinese and white races and to "help all those in need."

Another of its aims was to provide free instruction in the Chinese language for children growing up in Canada."

Chinese freemasonry had its origins in China more than 300 years ago when the first order was established by three Buddhist monks during the Ming Dynasty.

... HERE
AND THERE . . .
With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Still weathering the storms of change, the Empress Hotel (and Motor Lodge) is now preparing for a Russian invasion of its aged precincts.

All of the 185 members of the Red Army Chorus, soloists and orchestra will move in there Monday morning in readiness for their fast-moving performance at the Memorial Arena the same evening.

And they require the hotel to alter its catering schedules. A big meal must be served at 3 p.m.—well ahead of the show—and another meal after it.

This is all very un-Empressian, but I gather the hotel is going all out to make the Red Army visitors welcome.

"What a shock all this must be to the knitting needles in the Empress lounge," commented a Vancouver visitor after booking a five-dollar room in the motor lodge.

But there is more to come. An Icelandic invasion is expected on Sept. 22.

On that date Asgeir Agrelisson, president of Iceland, and a retinue of 25 Icelanders will move into the Empress.

No one knows why they are coming. The B.C. government has no knowledge of their visit and all the hotel knows is that the bookings were made by an agent of Canadian National Railways.

Two of the 40,000 Lions who stormed Atlantic City recently were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tang of Victoria.

It was the biggest conference of International Lions Clubs on record and Jack was proud to contribute to the entertainment. After announcing that he would sing the popular song "Tree," he gave out with a lusty shout of "Timberrrr!"

"Why do people get snooty about abstract art?" asked Ron Schonewill, a teacher from Seattle. "After all it's only another kind of expression. Much of the caveman's art could be called abstract."

A San Francisco couple who spent their honeymoon in Victoria wanted a maple leaf from the grounds at Government House as a souvenir of the occasion.

Forest Closure Called

Use of Parks Restricted

Restricted use of Victoria and Vancouver Island parks resulted today from a general forest closure called on Vancouver forest district at midnight.

B.C. forest service imposed the closure because of "explosive" forest fire situation involving 275 fires throughout the province.

Logging, mining and construction camps are closed and vacationers must not leave the public highways or supervised camping parks and picnic sites to go into the woods.

NEAR-BY PARKS

This applies to Thetis Lake Park, Prospect Lake, Beaver Lake, Mount Douglas, Mount Tolmie and other thickly-wooded areas.

The road to the Sooke Potholes was closed at 11 p.m., but the roads to Port Renfrew and Jordan River remained open.

"So far the public has cooperated by observing the closure order," Saanich fire chief Joseph Law said.

Access to Thetis Lake Park is limited to the concession area around the bathing pool.

Motorists and pedestrians may use the access road to Beaver Lake, but must not leave it en route to the picnic area.

Besides Vancouver forest district, which includes all of Vancouver Island, closures have gone into effect in parts of the Pacific Coast and Kamloops district.

CRITICAL AREA

But the lower coastal situation was described by provincial chief forester F. S. McKinnon as "very critical."

Affected is the eastern half of Vancouver Island south from Kelsey Bay, including the Gulf Islands, and the mainland as far north as Butte Inlet and east of the summit of the Cascades.

No one may enter the woods for travel, picnicking, berry picking, camping or any other recreational activity," Mr. McKinnon said.

Saanich ratepayers have only one week left to pay their municipal taxes without a penalty.

About 35 per cent of this year's levy is still unpaid, a municipal spokesman said.

Deadline is 3 p.m. Aug. 17. A 2 per cent penalty will be imposed on payments after that.

A spokesman for the International Woodworkers of America said the Vancouver forest district closure could idle as many as 9,000 loggers.

Most of the district's 900 fire fighters have been thrown into the battle against a 23,000-acre blaze 20 miles east of Prince George and a 31,000-acre outbreak 20 miles further east.

12-Storey Block For Beacon Hill

Tallest Apartment To Cost $1 Million

A $1,000,000 12-storey luxury apartment building will be constructed on Douglas overlooking Beacon Hill Park, it was revealed today.

The structure—tallest building on Vancouver Island and one of the tallest apartments in the province—will be built by Westcott Apartments Ltd. of Vancouver.

The same company recently completed Victoria's first high-rise apartment building, the eight-storey Beacon Towers, overlooking the park, and preserve existing landscaping.

COURT BOUGHT

John Bull, company spokesman, said in a telephone interview from Vancouver that a converted apartment building, Bickerton Court, and an adjoining lot have been purchased on the north side of Beacon Towers for the new building.

The site is slightly over an acre in size and cost us $320,000," he said. "The remaining financing has been all arranged.

"We plan to clear the site this October and start construction of the new building in November. The schedule calls for opening of the building in August or September of next year."

CREATES JOBS

About 25 carpenters and laborers, plus a varying number of other trades, will be employed on the project.

The new apartment will have a three-level concrete parking garage with drive-up ramps.

Other features include two elevators and a heated swimming pool.

Sweaters of Wool Boucle Give Jaunty Look for Fall

By PENNY SAVER

New fall fashions bespeak a certain contradiction. Clothes must be magnificently tailored yet casual; well fitting yet loose, comfortable. It does sound impossible to tee-off on the right green! This morning, however I saw some very fashionable sweaters, made of a wool-boucle that are made to order especially for this Victoria shop.

Sweaters are styled with a generous round collar, very deep armholes (to cover the dress without bulk and creasing), and long loose sleeves styled with a three-inch ribbed cuff. Sleeve can be pushed up to the elbow, where tight cuff will hold it in place to keep that bloused sleeve look. Best news of all is the four-inch ribbed band around the hips, which sits snugly in place to accent the softly bloused back.

All sizes are available from 34 to 44, in a 14-color range. Sweaters are priced at only $6.50 each (and they have been pre-shrunk).

Latest gimmick for stopping the fizz from fuzzing is a push-button-bottle cap. Top snap on and off with a touch of a button, to seal the sparkle in that pop bottle. Price tag on this handy take-along-to-picnics item is 29 cents.

If you would like to know where Penny shopped, please give her a ring at EV 2-3131.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—By Byrne Hope Sanders

TORONTO, August 10th—Bargains on a "pay later" plan? Yes, it's true! Even the most "bargain" call for ready cash on the line, you don't have to pass up an important buy just because funds are low. For example, a friend of mine saw a wonderful buy in a bedroom set, so straight into her branch of the B. of M. she went, and out she came a few minutes later with the necessary cash. She got it under the BANK OF MONTREAL Family Finance Plan . . . that's the plan to put all your credit needs under one roof—and it's life-insured too! Believe me, to borrow money the place to go is your nearest B. of M. branch.

But I've found I can control the pounds with those helpful new dietary products . . . and at the same time, control my well-being with CORRECTOL, Developed by Pharmaco. Correctol is a gentle laxative made especially for women . . . so gentle it's recommended even during pregnancy and after childbirth. DEAR ABBY

Give Her a Busy Signal!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman who works where I work. She seems okay, but is sort of nervous. Almost every afternoon, during our 2 o'clock break, she asks me to stand by the telephone while she dials a number, and then she has me ask for "Frank." Now I don't know what this is all about, and don't ask any questions because I figure it's none of my business.

I happened to mention it to my wife, and she said I should tell this woman to ask for Frank herself. I don't want to make an enemy, and it's no big deal to do this small favor for a co-worker. Do you see anything wrong with it?

JERRY.

DEAR JERRY: I see the same thing wrong with it your wife sees. You are being used. It looks like a case of hanky-panky with Frankie.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Oh, What a Little Diet And Exercise Can Do

Is it really important to you to lose some weight because of your health, or because of a husband—or a bear—or a job—or just to reinforce your self-confidence? I'm sure the answer is affirmative. And I hope you are reading the letters from some of the winners of my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon which I published last January. I am printing these.

Lowman this week.

The following letter shows what diet and exercise can do.

Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"Last January after my eighth operation I was told to lose at least 30 pounds. My weight was 153 pounds and I am 5 feet and 3 inches tall. I waited until I had regained my strength and health and then started dieting and exercising.

Believe me I ate more often

Why Does It Pucker? Adjust the Tension

Dear Eunice:

"When I sew with long or stay stitching, what causes the material to pucker up?"

Mrs. A. L. G.

Dear Mrs. A. L. G.:

In the first place, stay stitching should be done with the average length machine stitch, about 10 to 12 stitches per inch. It is natural that the fabric will pull up a little more when stitching on a single layer than a double layer. Perhaps you need the tension adjusted on your machine.

For answers to your sewing problems, write Eunice Farmer, care of this newspaper.

MORE HEAT DUE AS WOODS CLOSED

Hot, hotter, hottest, is the word from the weatherman as B.C. forests were closed due to explosive fire conditions (see details, Page 17.)

Temperatures in Greater Victoria areas away from sea breezes were expected to top 90.

Dag Calls UN Session On Tunisia

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today called a special session of the UN General Assembly to meet Aug. 21 on the French-Tunisian dispute.

Hammarskjold acted after a majority of the 99 UN members had approved an Afro-Asian request for the extraordinary session.

Uruguay became the 50th member to signify approval of the session.

The delay in convening the session is required under rules of procedure which state that delegations must be notified at least 10 days in advance of special sessions.

The sole item of business before the assembly will be "the grave situation in Tunisia since July 19, 1961," the date the French-Tunisian conflict began.

The coalition that sought the session was led by members of the Afro-Asian group and the Soviet bloc. They are supporting Tunisia's demand that the French withdraw from territory occupied around Bizerte naval base in the fighting last month and that France withdraw its troops from Bizerte and a piece of the Sahara claimed by Tunisia.

PARIS (Reuters) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said today that France has no intention of participating in the United Nations General Assembly debate on Bizerte.

JFK Wants Showdown On Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called today for a showdown conference with Russia on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests. A new note from Moscow indicated that this last-ditch bid for agreement is doomed in advance.

Kennedy announced at a press conference that he is sending Arthur Dean back to Geneva Aug. 24 for a "decisive meeting" of the U.S.-British-Soviet nuclear test ban negotiations.

"We'll be able to tell almost immediately," he said, whether Russia has made any change in its "troika" proposal for a three-man board of directors to run any inspection system.

But a new note from Moscow reassured Russia's position on precisely this issue.

State department press officer Lincoln White said the note, dispatched by the Soviet government Wednesday, indicated no change whatever in the Russian position on nuclear weapons test negotiations.

"I am not a Communist and not a Cuban. I do not like the way Washington interfered in the Algerian situation. I am taking this means to show my protest."

Air Crash Kills 34 Schoolboys

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Thirty-four British schoolboys bound for a holiday in Norway died Wednesday night in a chartered British airliner that crashed and burned on a Norwegian mountainside during a fierce coastal storm.

The others aboard the twin-engined Vickers Viking — two schoolmasters and three crew-members — died with them. The Viking was owned by Cunard-Eagle Airline.

A helicopter pilot sighted the wreckage at dawn 15 miles from Stavanger, on a moun-

Three Die in Gunfight As Cuba Plane Hijacked

Crash Landing Ends Attempt

HAVANA (AP) — Enemies of Fidel Castro attempted to seize a Cuban airliner in flight Wednesday but a gun battle erupted and three persons were killed, including the pilot and one hijacker.

The co-pilot crash-landed in a sugar cane field 20 miles south of Havana and the other hijackers escaped. Cuban militiamen fanned out in the area in an intensive search today.

The incident was disclosed today by official Cuban sources. Havana radio reported that one of the hijackers was a woman.

Cuban sources said the seizure was the work of counter-revolutionaries. The Communist party newspaper Hoy accused the United States Central Intelligence Agency of joining the plot to seize the government-owned C-47 aircraft.

VIOLENT EXPLOSION

Further evidence of counter-revolutionary activity in Cuba came this morning when a violent explosion rocked the nationalized Fin de Siglo department store in downtown Havana. Windows were shattered in an area of several blocks.

Fifty-three persons were aboard the twin-engined Cuban Airlines Aerovias Q which anti-Castro hijackers tried to seize Wednesday.

Five minutes after take-off, the bandits attempted to force their way into the pilot's cabin and take over the plane, presumably in hopes of heading for the United States.

BANDITS FIRED FIRST

When the crew and two guards resisted, gunfire broke out. Authorities reported the bandits fired first and one of the first shots killed the plane's captain, Luis Alvarez Regato.

The other dead were one of the military guards, Silvino Sanchez Almaguer, and one of the hijackers, who was not identified.

Havana radio did not broadcast news of the incident until this morning, hours after it happened.

While the gunfight went on in the main cabin and terrified passengers ducking for cover, the wounded co-pilot, Alberto Bayo, managed to crash-land safely in a field. The landing gear and propellers were broken.

The crew managed to get off a terse radio message. It was picked up in Brownsville, Tex., and U.S. fighter planes made a vain attempt to intercept the airliner before it reached Havana.

Capt. Carl Ballard, in charge of the plane, described the tense 2 1/2-hour flight to Havana.

He (Cadon) threatened us several times, and we were in great danger of being shot, not intentionally but by accident. He said he'd kill us, and he said when the problem came up that we were not to land for fuel. He told us we'd crash first.

DEMANDS ESCORT

Cadon demanded by radio that Havana send out an air escort, but the control tower turned him down. The co-pilot pointed Havana out to Cadon, whereupon he said,

I have never been there before. I don't know.

Convinced finally that the plane was in Havana, Cadon emptied his gun and passed out the bullets as souvenirs to the crew.

HAVANA (AP) — The Airline Stewards and Stewardesses Association today called for fast international action to halt piracy in the sky.

He told the pilot of the DC-8 Pan American jet which was seized by a French gunman Wednesday that "if we return these stolen planes perhaps there will be no more hijacking."

Meanwhile, Cuba has proposed a reciprocal agreement with the United States for automatic release of planes or boats hijacked in either country, the U.S. State Department said today.

U.S. officials said a note sent via Switzerland implied but did not say outright that Cuba would release the Eastern Star Air Lines Electra hijacked to Havana July 24 if an over-all agreement is reached.

Officials said the note also demanded as a condition return of a Cuban patrol boat, the SB-8, brought to Miami by anti-Castro defectors.

Excited boys had crowded chattering aboard the Viking Wednesday afternoon at London airport. Most of them had saved their pocket money for the week's holiday.

EDMONTON — Tournament medalist Bill Wakeham of Victoria bowed out of the Canadian amateur golf championship here today when he dropped his third-round match to Gordon Dods of Edmonton 5 and 4.

Wakeham, who displayed real form in taking the 36-hole medal honors and two matches Wednesday, was off color as he finished the first nine holes 2 down and never recovered.

B.C. hopes for the national crown were blasted today as the two other coast stars in the title fight were also beaten. Bob Kidd, Vancouver, dropped a grueling 21-hole match to Gary Olson, Turlock, Calif., while Bob Ford, Vancouver, lost to the veteran Nick Weslock, of Toronto, one of the favorites, 7 and 6.

CHAMP BEATEN

Today's third round also saw the defeat of defending champion, Keith Alexander, Calgary, by his hometown foe, Doug Silverberg, 1 up.

Silverberg was 2 up after nine holes and after Alexander cut the lead to 1 up with an eagle three on the 17th, he halved the final hole for his victory.

Air Crash Kills 34 Schoolboys

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Thirty-four British schoolboys bound for a holiday in Norway died Wednesday night in a chartered British airliner that crashed and burned on a Norwegian mountainside during a fierce coastal storm.

The others aboard the twin-engined Vickers Viking — two schoolmasters and three crew members — died with them. The Viking was owned by Cunard-Eagle Airlines.

A helicopter pilot sighted the wreckage at dawn 15 miles from Stavanger, on a mountain in the rugged Ryfylke fiord area of Norway's southwest coast.

Police said the plane hit 30 feet below the top of the 1,870-

Cadon — his pistol cocked and ready — rushed down the aisle from the back of the cabin as soon as the plane had taken off from Houston, Tex., kicked open the door to the pilot's compartment and went inside, closing the door behind him.

The crew managed to get off a terse radio message. It was picked up in Brownsville, Tex., and U.S. fighter planes made a vain attempt to intercept the airliner before it reached Havana.

Capt. Carl Ballard, in charge of the plane, described the tense 2½-hour flight to Havana.

"He (Cadon) threatened us several times, and we were in great danger of being shot, not intentionally but by accident. He said he'd kill us and he said when the problem came up that we were not to land for fuel. He told us we'd crash first."

DEMANDS ESCORT

Cadon demanded by radio that Havana send out an air escort, but the control tower turned him down. The copilot pointed Havana out to Cadon, whereupon he said:

"He (Cadon) threatened us several times, and we were in great danger of being shot, not intentionally but by accident. He said he'd kill us and he said when the problem came up that we were not to land for fuel. He told us we'd crash first."

OFF B.C. COAST

Battle Looms On Oil Rights

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

A struggle for control of potentially-rich oil-bearing lands under the sea off the coast of British Columbia is shaping up between the federal and provincial governments, it was learned today.

The jurisdictional dispute between Ottawa and Victoria has been simmering for more than a year-and-a-half but has been brought into the open by an announcement from Shell Oil Company of Canada Ltd. of plans to explore off about 11,000,000 acres of land along the west coast of Vancouver Island and up to Queen Charlotte Sound.

Shell has applied to Ottawa for exploratory permits on the offshore lands and, according to J. F. Redmond of Calgary, vice-president of exploration, will start soon on preliminary work.

However, he said, when it comes to drilling it must be recognized that these are Crown lands in the right of the province and permits will have to be granted in the same way as for any other Crown lands in the province.

Havana radio did not broadcast news of the incident until this morning, hours after it happened.

Move to Halt Airliner Seizures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government put border patrolmen on some commercial aircraft flights today to guard against air piracy.

The decision to employ these modern counterparts of stagecoach-day "shotgun riders" was announced by President Kennedy at a press conference.

The president said instructions are also going out that the door to the pilot's cabin is to be kept locked with the key inside. The aim is to keep a hijacker from getting to the pilot if he takes over the passenger compartment.

After Kennedy's announcement, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters in amplification that border patrolmen began flying today on some planes. He said they will fly trips within the United States as well as on international flights.

The patrolmen will be in plain clothes but will be armed.

Kennedy also told a press conference that he hopes other governments will exercise all the means at their power to control what he called these "exercises in futility."

The president cautioned

SENATE BACKS DEATH PENALTY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed a bill today to make aircraft piracy subject to a possible death penalty for other crimes in the sky.

His cautionary words were directed at members of Congress who have attacked Fidel Castro as the instigator of two recent plane piracy cases when, it is developed, the aircraft were seized by men with no known connection with Cuba.

Kennedy said some of the plane hijacking suggest that a "lunatic fringe" has taken to aircraft piracy as a means of gaining publicity.
